Well, looks like it's my second release already. As always, all of the story, art, and other properties belong to the author and artist, I take no credit whatsoever. I'm still looking for one or two manga series to pick up. If you can find one that isn't too complicated with Chinese raws, feel free to drop by my Batoto page. Also, I was actually pretty suprised by the contents of the first chapter, as I started from the latest one and it wasn't anywhere as direct as this one.
